

the rules restricting corporate giantism should absolutely not be relaxed. any vote to the contrary goes against the principles of a free and balanced media market.